

asparagus, radish & mint salad with feta

serves 4

- 1 lb. fresh asparagus
- 2 bunches radishes
- 3 Tbsp. extra virgin olive oil
- 1 Tbsp. lemon juice
- ½ tsp. honey
- 2 Tbsp. mint, chopped
- 4 oz. feta, crumbled
- salt and white pepper, to taste
- 2 chive blossoms (optional)

Slice the asparagus and radishes into thin coins or discs, slicing as thinly as you can. (I tried this with both a mandoline and a knife – the knife was actually faster and easier.) Transfer to medium bowl and drizzle the olive oil, lemon juice and honey over the vegetables; stir to combine. Fold in mint and feta; season with salt and pepper to taste. If using the chive blossoms to garnish, separate the individual florets from the large blossom and scatter over the salad. Serve immediately.
